ROBS MERCHANT IN BANDIT STYLE

Negro Steals Gun, Shoves Proprietor Through Glass Door and Escapes.

Shoving J. C. Tignor, proprietor of the firm of T. W. Tignor & Sons, 1719 East Franklin Street, against a glass door and smashing it into a thousand pieces, an unknown negro early last night walked out with a new Parker shotgun, to examine which he had just previously asked permission.

The robber was accompanied by another negro, and there were several other customers in the store at the time. The leader asked to have a gun shown to him, and one was handed to him. He looked at it, and then started out of the store without offering to pay.

Mr. Tignor, seeing that he was about to be robbed, grabbed a revolver from behind the counter and leveled it at the head of the negro, calling to him to stop. The latter shoved Mr. Tignor into the glass door and then made his escape. Mr. Tignor ran out into the street, but the highwayman had already turned a corner, and was well out of sight.

No one in the store realized what was going on until after it was all over.

It was from this same store that the negro who ran amok and shot eight people on Eighteenth Street a year ago stole his gun and ammunition.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS FROM WOODBERRY

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ALEXANDRIA, VA., November 13.—Episcopal High School swamped Woodberry Forest today by the score of 28 to 6.

Woodberry could not withstand the terrific plunges of the Episcopal backfield, and gave way for four touchdowns, and they added to these by kicking a goal from field. Woodberry Forest scored its only points of the game late in the second half, getting a touchdown on a cleverly executed forward pass.

DEFORMITIES CURED

CROOKED or CLUB FEET of any variety, and at any reasonable age, can be made straight, natural and useful. The method used here is mild, and the result is guaranteed.

POTTS DISEASE when treated in time at this institution, will result in no deformity; paralysis will always be prevented; the health and strength of the patient is at once improved; the growth not interfered with. Plaster is never used.

SPINAL CURVATURE even in some long standing cases can be corrected by the new and improved methods in use here; plaster, felt or leather jackets are never employed. Names of patients recently cured after all ordinary methods have failed to afford relief, will be furnished on application.

HIP DISEASE can be cured without surgical operations or confining the patient to bed. Abscesses, shortening deformity and loss of motion should always be prevented, and if already present, can usually be cured. The methods used here in the cure of Hip Disease in all its stages are radically different and more successful than those generally employed. Write for information.

PARALYSIS AND RESULTING DEFORMITIES For no class of afflictions has greater preparation been made. Deformities of limbs, joints or feet, resulting from paralysis, and always be corrected without surgical operations or severe treatment. Paralysis should never be neglected; children never outgrow it.

CROOKED AND DISEASED KNEES Ripped, limbed and deformed generally are successfully treated without pain.

NEW CHURCH AND ITS PASTOR

SPENCER, N. C., November 13.—The above cuts represent the Spencer Presbyterian Church and its pastor, Rev. R. E. Steele, who was recently installed.

Rev. Mr. Steele, who is the descendant of an old Virginia family, has been preaching since 1892. He was for fifteen years engaged in special work for the sailors, and was chaplain of the New Orleans Seamen's Friends' Society for several years, and as such became widely known throughout the Southern Presbyterian Church. During the Spanish War he was appointed naval representative of the Army and Navy Christian Commission, with headquarters at Key West. In June, 1898, he was appointed chaplain in the volunteer navy, being the only minister so appointed. At the close of hostilities he was detailed to the Brooklyn Navy Yard, receiving the thanks of the department for his work at Key West, with which the government was highly pleased.

At Brooklyn, in connection with Rear Admiral "Jack" Phillip, he organized the Naval Y. M. C. A., which in the past few years has grown to immense proportions. Mr. Steele enjoys the distinction of having started this work among the bluejackets for the International committee.

After two years of sea service, during which he visited Central America, Europe and other parts of the world, he resigned from the service to engage in mission work among the sailors at Hampton Roads. Later he went to Boston as chaplain of the Boston Seamen's Friend Society. In 1905 he re-entered the ministry of the Presbyterian Church, serving churches in West Virginia and near Lexington, Va., at historic old New Monmouth, from which place he removed to Spencer.

The installation service was conducted by a commission of the Concord Presbytery. Rev. Byron Clark, D. D., of Salisbury, presided and preached the sermon.

TRIES TO MURDER HIS FORMER BOSS

Discharged Man Fires at Close Range, and in Turn Is Shot Down.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHARLOTTE, N. C., November 13.—Incensed because he was dismissed from his position in William Horah's restaurant, Mason Smith, a young white man, returned to his former employer's place of business to-night and attempted to shoot him. Smith's bullet flew wide of the mark, and Horah, pulling his own gun, put four bullets into Smith's body, fatally wounding him. Horah surrendered and was released on bond. Smith was taken to the Presbyterian Hospital. He will die.

During the difficulty in the afternoon Smith abused Horah and Horah struck him. Smith secured a pistol, telling several that he was going to kill Horah. The latter, apprised of the threats, armed himself. Smith found Horah seated at a table eating supper and fired pointblank at close range, but missed his aim. Horah returned the fire with interest, Smith running a hundred yards down the street before he fell.

Managers Dissatisfied

They Do Not Relish Scheme for Partial Abolition of Censorship.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LONDON, November 13.—The dissatisfaction of London theatre managers to the proposed scheme for the partial abolition of the censorship is due solely to their desire to escape responsibility. They have been quite content to risk the occasional rejection of a play in order to be free from interference in the production of all licensed dramas. They fear frequent prosecutions by various authorities under the proposed arrangement. They also resent the threatened loss of liquor licenses. Many London theatres make an annual report of $6,000 from their bars, while music halls make fully $20,000.

George Bernard Shaw is one of the playwrights who is discontented with the decision of the parliamentary censorship committee. He says:

"We are threatened with what is virtually a star chamber. The committee has upon the expedient of making use of the theatre landlord to compel the dramatic author to submit to a nominally appointed censor. In some respects the suggestion of legislation belongs to the very worst American type. If I put into a play a joke at the expense of religious reverence, the Attorney-General can apply to the committee of the Privy Council for an order prohibiting the play for ten years on the ground of my doing violence to a sentiment of religious reverence."

Mr. Shaw thinks the censorship is mainly valuable as a "verdict of guilty without extending circumstances against the Lord Chamberlain, and an admission of all contentions, if not all claims, of authors."

PICTURE OF HEALTH AFTER WHOOPING COUGH

MR. A. B. TILLAPPAUGH AND DAUGHTER

Mr. A. B. Tillapaugh, of Chester-ton, Ind., says his little daughter's lungs were left very weak after a severe attack of whooping cough. For years they tried various remedies without good results; finally, when the case seemed almost hopeless, they tried Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey with marvelous success.

Mr. Tillapaugh writes: "My little daughter, who is now 7 years old, at the age of 7 months had a severe attack of whooping cough, which left her lungs in a very weakened condition. She grew worse in spite of all we could do. Different doctors prescribed for her, but without effect. We dragged along this way for nearly six years, almost hopeless but not conquered.

"A friend advised Duffy's Malt Whiskey, and I procured a bottle. That was about five months ago. The first dose seemed to help her, and she is now at school, and I think about cured. Thank God, my little girl is now the picture of health."

The little sufferers from whooping cough, measles and the other diseases incident to childhood often become physical wrecks from the severity of the attacks and yield to other diseases vastly more fatal. Want of nutrition from impaired digestion is usually the cause, but the kidneys, the lungs and air passages may be affected, and this too often leads to serious complications. What the little sufferers need, as in the case of Mr. Tillapaugh's daughter, is a remedy that will prove a food and a medicine at the same time. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is this remedy in perfection. It excites the proper digestion and assimilation of the food by its influence upon the salivary glands of the mouth and the gastric glands of the stomach; without requiring digestion, it is burned or oxidized within the body, and, like other foods, produces heat and energy. By its tonic and soothing influence upon the physical and mental forces it calms nervous irritability and gives tone and vigor to the body.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

as a tonic and stimulant is one of the greatest strength-givers known to science. It aids in destroying disease, and by its building and healing properties assists in restoring tissues in a gradual, healthy, natural manner. It is a wonderful remedy in the treatment and cure of consumption, pneumonia, gripe, bronchitis, coughs, colds, malaria, low fever, stomach troubles and all wasting, weakened conditions, if taken in time.

If in need of advice, write Medical Department, Duffy Malt Whiskey Company, Rochester, N. Y., stating your case fully. Our doctor will send you advice free, together with a handsome illustrated booklet, containing some of the many thousands of gratifying letters received from men and women in all walks of life, both old and young, who have been cured and benefited by the use of this great medicine. It is sold by druggists, grocers and dealers, or direct, $1.00 per large bottle.

IN MEMORIAM

GERMELMAN.—In sad but loving remembrance of FREDERICK C. GERMELMAN, who departed this life one year ago, November 11, 1908.

In the graveyard, softly sleeping, Where the flowers gently wave, We laid the one we loved so dearly In his lonely, silent grave.

Through all pains at time he'd smile, A smile of heavenly birth, And when the angels called him home He smiled farewell to earth.

Home is dark, O God! How dreary, We listen for his voice all weary; Listen, but we hear it not.

Jesus, while our hearts are bleeding O'er the spots that death has won, We would at this solemn moment Calmly accept thy will be done.
